INTRODUCTION

The Arctic Winter Games International Committee (AWGIC) has endeavoured to create a strong visual image for the Arctic Winter Games. By ensuring the consistent and proper application of the Arctic Winter Games Brand and Official Logo, the committee expects to significantly enhance positive public awareness of the event. The committee’s decision to require all host societies to use the Arctic Winter Games Official Logo for a particular set of games was made in this spirit. The Arctic Winter Games Official Logo shall be the sole logo approved for each games.

Since the Arctic Winter Games was first held in 1970, the event’s mission—to promote athletic competition, cultural exhibition and social interaction among Northerners—has always been symbolized by three interlocking rings. Over the years, the official logo has evolved to include a multi-coloured ribbon reminiscent of the Northern Lights or aurora borealis. In 2003, the various elements of this logo were revised in order to remove design imperfections and simplify reproduction in all media. At the same time, the Northern Lights were “put back in the night” by the addition of a black background bordered by a white circle that represents the circumpolar world. Finally, the original image of the interlocking rings was re-introduced to the logo because of its strength.

Despite its bold new appearance and more user-friendly characteristics, the official logo retains the overall visual qualities that have made it such an enduring symbol of the North’s premier multi-sport and cultural event for youth.

THE OFFICIAL LOGO

The Arctic Winter Games Official Logo contains four basic elements:

1. Three interlocking rings which symbolize athletic competition, cultural exhibition and social interaction among Circumpolar peoples;
2. An underlying ribbon which represents the Northern Lights or aurora borealis;
3. A black background which represents the night sky; and,
4. An all-encompassing white circle which symbolizes the circumpolar world.

Wherever possible, the official logo should be reproduced in full-colour. In order to reproduce the logo properly, the following colours must be used:

- Purple: Pantone Purple the CMYK formula for this colour is: 40/90/0/0
- Blue: PMS 300 The CMYK formula for this colour is: 100/45/0/0
- Green: Pantone Green the CMYK formula for this colour is: 100/0/60/0

The pantone numbers are as follows.

- Blue words/rings PMS 282.
- Background blue of middle band PMS 295.
- Pink on left side is PMS 245.
- Green on right side is PMS 3272

In most applications, the official logo also incorporates the logotype “Arctic Winter Games” in the preferred format shown. The logotype should appear in black.
Minimum and Recommended Sizes
The minimum size for the official logo without logotype to be reproduced clearly is 0.5” x 0.5”. When the logo is reproduced with logotype, the 0.5” x 0.5” size standard still applies to the graphical component. The recommended size for the logo to be reproduced is at least 1” x 1”.

Free Space Standards
As illustrated, the minimum distance permitted between the official logo, with or without logotype, and all surrounding graphic and/or typographic elements is one-half the width of the logo (including logotype, where applicable). Exceptions may apply for the positioning of certain commonly used tags.

Positioning of Tags
Authorized Users may wish to use one of the following tags in conjunction with the official logo, including the logotype in the preferred format:

International Committee
   Funding Partner
   Sponsor
   Supporter
   2004, 2006 etc.
   Team Alberta etc.
As illustrated, the tag should appear in a centered array around the top of the logo in uppercase, Frutiger 65. The type should be black and should not to exceed the total width of the official logo.

Positioning of Other Logos
The diagram illustrates the manner in which the official logo should appear in relation to any other logo, such as a corporate or government logo. When the official logo is used in conjunction with another logo, it should include the appropriate designation (as set out in agreements).

Where possible, the official logo with added text should appear in a 1:1 ratio with other logos.

Exceptions to Colour Reproduction
Where necessary or desirable, the official logo may be reproduced in a monochrome version in which the underlying ribbon is 50% black. The logotype should appear in black.

For applications involving embroidery, silkscreen and vinyl signage, the monochrome version of the official logo will actually require a three-colour treatment composed of black, grey and white.

monochrome reproduction
Backgrounds Other Than White
In the event that the official logo, including logotype and any other text elements, appears on a dark colour substrate such that the logotype and text are no longer legible, then a reversed treatment of the logotype and text to white is required, as illustrated. When placing a reversed logo on a photograph, the logo should be positioned on a solid colour field to ensure legibility.

Exceptions to Logotype Format
For certain applications including letterhead and envelopes, the logotype “Arctic Winter Games” may be positioned in the following alternate formats. The text must still appear in black 10 pt. Frutiger 65 at minimum size. Standards for minimum size, free space and backgrounds other than white still apply.
BID COMMITTEE AND HOST SOCIETY APPLICATIONS

One of the best ways to strengthen the Arctic Winter Games brand is to ensure that the official logo is strongly associated with each and every set of games. For this reason, the Arctic Winter Games Official Logo shall be the sole logo of the Games. Bid Committees and Host Societies may, with the prior written approval of the Arctic Winter Games International Committee, choose to add the location and/or year of the Games to the logo.
